PRICE TWO CENTS

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS

PLAYERS OF THE CHICAGO AMERICAN LEAGUE TEAM WIN THE COVETED TITLE.

TAKE FOUR OUT OF SIX GAMES

FRANTIC CROWD OF ROOTERS WITNESSES FINAL GAME AND MOB THE VICTORS.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The Chicago club of the American baseball league is the champion of the world. By winning Sunday's game, 8 to 3, against the local club of the National league, the Americans earned the right to float the world's championship pennant, as well as the pennant of the American league, to ride to the grounds next season in carriages and to have "world's champions" lettered on the blankets worn by their horses. Sunday's game was the sixth of the series and the fourth victory for the Americans.

When the last National batsman had gone out and the stunning fact that new champions had been created burned its impression through thousands of excited minds, a crowd surged around the box wherein sat Charles W. Murphy, president of the losing club. He smiled gamely at requests for a speech and said:

"The best team won. They won because they played the better ball. Too much praise cannot be given to President Comiskey and Captain Jones and the team which by unprecedented pluck climbed in mid-season from seventh place to the top of their own league, and then topped off that great accomplishment by winning the world's championship from the team that made a runaway race of the National league contest. I call for three cheers for Comiskey and his great team."

Cheer after cheer followed this speech, but they were lost to the hearing of most of the crowd, which was busily cheering other things—the individual players, the players collectively, and thumping said players on the backs with such enthusiasm that every one of them had to fight a way out to the waiting carriages.

Cheers for the Vanquished.

And cheers for the losers were not lacking. They had lost the greatest distinction which baseball offers to its votaries, but are still a great team and the crowd which followed their carriages through crowded blocks did not spare their throats in saying so.

Comiskey's rotund, rosy face was wreathed in smiles long before the game was over, for the Americans put the victory in storage in the first two innings. When Schulte went out at first after an abortive rally and the great series was over, Comiskey shook hands with such of his players as he could reach. The others were fighting to save themselves from their friends and had no time for congratulations save pounding each other on the back.

The crowd seemed loth to leave the grounds when the game was over. Thousands poured out of the bleachers and circus seats onto the grounds, while those in the stands stood up and watched the spectacle. The yells and screechings of noise-making devices that had been rending the air all during the game, apparently to the limit, were redoubled. It was pandemonium, let loose. The players tried to cling together for mutual protection, but it was useless. A few moments sufficed to make each one the center of a densely packed, half-crazed throng out of which each had to fight his way.

The wives of such of the Americans as are married were waiting for their spouses in the carriages to carry them away safely from the hero worshipping mob. A crowd of very small boys tore the wire screen from a ticket window after the game was over and got onto the field merely to stand on the historic ground and share in the excitement.

Victory Was Fairly Earned.

That the victory was a fairly earned one is shown not only by the fact that the Americans won four out of six games, incidentally making it unnecessary to play the seventh, but by hits and runs. The Americans all told made 22 runs compared with 18 by the Nationals. They made 39 base hits as against 37 for the Nationals. The Nationals made but 5 errors compared with 14 by the Americans. The latter also made the greatest number of extra base hits, but the ground rules made nearly all of them good for only two bases.

Among the expert critics of baseball it is generally admitted that to the American pitchers most of the credit is due. This, despite the fact that the American pitchers have but 26 strikeouts to their credit, against 35 for the Nationals. The Americans gave 19 bases on balls as against 18 by the Nationals. Notwithstanding this, the American pitchers were effective when hits meant runs, particularly against such men as Chance, Schulte, Steinfeldt and Kling. These men, all consistent 300 hitters, were all but helpless during most of the series. On the other hand, the Americans, popularly called the "hitless wonders," batted more strongly than their opponents, who during the season had done the heaviest batting in the National league. In stealing bases the Nationals had a shade over the Americans. Catchers Kling and Sullivan, who caught the entire series, were both formidable to baserunners, but of the total of 13 bases stolen, the Nationals got 8.

Over 19,000 paid admissions had been registered at the gate at noon, Sunday, the balmy weather and the holiday bringing them out early.

The grounds being full to bursting, the gates were closed and play was begun at 2:15 o'clock. Completely encircling the grounds was a closely packed crowd of enthusiasts. One man on the top seat of the bleachers back of first base had an unearthly sound-producer. By turning a crank it gave out prodigious noise, half groan and half wail. To the supporters of the Nationals during the first two innings, the sound was expressive of their feelings. A brass band of six pieces occupied part of one box for the first time during the series, but could scarcely make itself heard above the continuous din. Twice, however, when popular airs were played the crowd joined in and sang to the music.

A total of fourteen hits, two of doubles, tells the story of how Sunday's game was won. Captain Chance elected to place Mordecai Brown in the pitcher's box, although Brown had pitched a hard game on Friday. The Americans connected with his weakened delivery for eight safe hits in one and two-thirds innings and he retired to the bench. Overall, who was called in Saturday to retrieve that game, was again called upon and held the Americans to six hits and one run during the remainder of the game. His support was excellent. Time and again Tinker and Evers by blocking hits prevented runs, as did Hoffman in center by spectacular running catches. Sheppard also made a great backward running catch which kept the score down.

Heavy Hitters Foiled.

When the Americans assumed a lead of six runs the National players were a grimly determined looking lot, but try as they would they could not solve the puzzling delivery of Doctor White, the opposing pitcher. Time after time the heavy hitters of the team batted easy ones when hits meant runs. All told they gathered only six safeties off White. Part of the crowd rooted hard for a ninth inning rally. Tinker went out. Evers raised flickering hopes by a scratch double to right, but Kling promptly failed. Gessler, a substitute, batted for Overall and was allowed to walk. Holman singled to left and Evers scored. Sheppard was safe on an error. Schulte now came to bat. With all the burden of a forlorn hope on his shoulders he hit a grounder straight to Donohue and the great series passed into baseball history.

The victory of the American league team was celebrated with wild enthusiasm on the South Side, where the "White Sox" grounds are situated. Crowds of men and boys armed with tin horns and cowbells and bearing immense canvas socks filled with straw marched in the streets, their numbers constantly growing as others caught the spirit and joined the ranks. Bonfires were kindled in the streets and vociferous followers of the successful team joined hands and danced in unrestrained joy about them. Never before was there such a widespread and noisy demonstration in Chicago over the outcome of a series of games.

The attendance at Sunday's game was 19,249, making the total attendance for the series 99,845. The total receipts for the six games was $105,540. Of this amount the players' share is $33,491.70. The American league team, with twenty-one men, will receive $25,051.53. The Nationals' share for nineteen men is $8,350.17.

ON THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

Speaker Cannon and Congressman Watson Talk With the President.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Speaker Cannon and Representative Watson of Indiana had an hour's talk with the president Sunday night. They went over the political situation thoroughly, going into detail relative to the campaign being waged by their party for the retention of control of the next house. The president's callers gave him the benefit of their observations and of their knowledge of conditions in different states.

Woman Kills a Physician.

Cincinnati, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Ada Mahaffy of Latonia, Ky., shot and killed Dr. Fred W. Kolthoff, a physician of Covington, at the home of Walter Unger, on Water street, in a lonely spot known as "Oklahoma," a suburb of Covington. Kolthoff was in that neighborhood to collect rent. Suddenly Mrs. Mahaffy fired three shots in rapid succession. Kolthoff fell mortally wounded.

Operator Beaten by Bandits.

Anoka, Minn., Oct. 15.—After being beaten over the head with a pistol until he was unconscious and covered with blood, William Shepherd, operator in the Northern Pacific depot here, was dragged into a boxcar by two bandits and covered up with rubbish and left for dead. The highwaymen rifled the cash drawer in the depot and escaped with $18.

Shot by a Highwayman.

Minneapolis, Oct. 15.—Joseph Gardout was held up by masked highwaymen in this city at night and because he had only $1.10 and a watch the robber shot Gardout three times in the abdomen, fatally wounding him. The robber escaped.

THREE MEN KILLED

TWO OTHERS ARE FRIGHTFULLY SCALDED BY EXPLOSION OF A STEAM PIPE.

New York, Oct. 15.—A steam pipe exploded on the steam yacht Colonia, owned by Frederick G. Bourne, former commodore of the New York Yacht club, as she lay in Oyster Bay cove. Five men aboard the yacht were frightfully scalded by escaping steam and three died soon after being taken to Nassau hospital, Mineola, L. I. The dead are:

Albert E. Hip, fireman; Edward McGenty, stoker; John Southard, fireman.

The explosion occurred just as the Colonia was about to go out of commission for the season. Commodore Bourne had ordered Engineer Leonard to take the vessel to Newport and lay her up for the winter. Some hours after the commodore's departure, Leonard and his crew went down to the engine room to get up steam in one of the boilers. The boiler would not "take water," the tubes seeming to be choked. So the men started to get up steam in the other boiler and as there was fire in the furnace under it steam was generated quickly and blew out the tubes.

Instantly scalding steam filled the stokehole and the five men vainly tried to grope their way to the ladder. They were carried to the deck from the stokehole, being terribly scalded,

ENTIRE FAMILY SLAIN

MISSOURI MAN AND HIS WIFE AND THEIR THREE CHILDREN MURDERED.

YOUNG FARMER CONFESSES

ADMITS SHOOTING THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY AND CLUBBING THE REST TO DEATH.

Houston, Mo., Oct. 15.—Barney Parsons, a farmer, his wife and three children have been murdered near Licking, Mo. A farmer named Hamilton has been arrested charged with the murder, and it is said to have confessed. Parsons had sold his farm and crops to Hamilton and it is alleged that the men quarrelled over the terms of the sale. Parsons and family set out from their former home in a covered wagon bound for Northern Missouri. The body of Parsons was found shot to death, and the mother and three children had been clubbed to death.

Joda Hamilton, the alleged murderer, who is under arrest, is said to have made a complete confession, of which the following is a summary:

At a timber-bordered place in the road, as Parsons and his family were driving along, they were confronted by Hamilton, armed with a shotgun. Deliberately aiming at Parsons, Hamilton discharged both barrels of the gun, and Parsons fell to the ground. Hamilton then advanced upon him and clubbed him over the head with the butt of the gun several times. He then beat the head of the mother almost to a pulp, and after killing her, clubbed the three children to death. The bodies of all five were then loaded into a wagon and taken to Big Piney creek, about one mile distant from the scene of the murder, and dumped into the creek.

A party of fishermen from Houston discovered the bodies of two of the children. A further search brought to light the bodies of both parents and the baby, and word was sent to Houston. Shortly after the news had been received here Hamilton rode into town on a mule that was recognized as one that belonged to Parsons. He was arrested.

Parsons, who came to Texas county two years ago from the northern part of Missouri, was a quiet, industrious farmer and never had trouble of any sort. Hamilton has also been favorably known over the entire county.

The murdered children were aged eleven, four and one year. Twenty deputy sheriffs guarded the prisoner in the county jail, but the lynching threats grew more alarming, popular wrath being intensified by confirmation of the report that Hamilton had made a full confession, and the sheriff spirited the prisoner away to a safe place in the Ozark mountains. Hamilton is only twenty years old.

KILLED BY A HIGHWAYMAN.

Motorman and Night Watchman Murdered at Oakland, Cal.

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 15.—Two men were murdered here by a highwayman. Conductor L. M. Samuel and Motorman J. M. Tenny were sitting inside their electric car. Samuel had his night's receipts spread out before him counting the money when a man with a handkerchief tied over the lower part of his face entered the car, carrying a revolver.

Motorman Tenny rushed for the bandit and struck him over the head with his controller. The robber fired, the shot taking effect in Tenny's breast. Continuing to discharge his revolver, the robber retreated to the door and escaped in the darkness. Two hours later Tenny died from his wounds. About 3 o'clock, while searching for the robber, the dead body of William P. Trubody, night watchman for Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson's warehouse, was found outside the warehouse by the police, with a bullet hole over the heart. He had evidently been attracted by the shot that killed the motorman and tried to stop the fleeing highwayman.

HUNDREDS PERISHED.

Steamer Hankow Destroyed by Fire at Hongkong.

Hongkong, Oct. 15.—The steamer Hankow, with 2,000 Chinese passengers, men, women and children, and seven Europeans and a cargo, including 300 bales of matting, 500 bales of raw silk and 400 bales waste silk, arrived from Canton on fire.

Within five minutes after the alarm was given the Hankow was ablaze fore and aft. Captain Branch awakened the European passengers, who rushed down the gangway.

The crew was compelled to leave the ship, which by this time was a veritable furnace.

The Chinese steerage passengers were thrown into a frightful panic. Horrifying shrieks and cries to save their lives were heard, but escape was impossible owing to the inflammable nature of the cargo. Hundreds were burned to death and many others jumped into the harbor and were drowned. The vessel was totally destroyed.

It is now only a question as to the size of the majority that A. L. Cole will receive, his election as governor of Minnesota is assured.

The democrats have succeeded in keeping the name of John W. Johnson, socialist-labor candidate for governor, off the state ticket.

The last half of all real estate taxes are due any time before Nov. 1st. Don't forget that if they are not paid by Oct. 31st that a ten per cent. penalty will attach.

The people of Crow Wing county will have an opportunity to listen to Senator Clapp at the opera house in this city on the evening of Monday, Oct. 29th. The gentleman is an eloquent speaker and is considered one of the ablest members of the United States senate.

HON. FRANK EDDY AT PEQUOT.
Hon. Frank Eddy, of Sauk Center, and ex-congressman from the Seventh district, will deliver a political speech at Pequot on Friday evening, Oct. 26th. Mr. Eddy is a pleasing speaker and is probably as well informed on matters of a public nature as any man in the state today. The people of Pequot are to be congratulated on securing this recognition and the announcement should insure an audience that will tax the seating capacity of the hall. It is quite probable that a delegation from this city will accompany Mr. Eddy to Pequot on that date.

SENATOR CLAPP AT BRAINERD

Brainerd Citizens to Listen to Political Address Monday, Oct. 29. A.

L. Cole to Accompany Him
On Monday evening, Oct. 29th, Senator Moses Clapp will deliver a political address at the opera house in this city. It is expected that he will be accompanied by A. L. Cole, republican candidate for governor. This will undoubtedly be the only rally that will be held in Brainerd during the campaign. Senator Clapp is not a stranger to the people of this city having on former occasions appeared here. He is a fluent speaker, an able representative, and the people of Brainerd and the surrounding country should not overlook the opportunity of listening to him. Remember the date, Monday, October 29th.

MR. LINDBERGH'S POSITION

The Little Falls Transcript publishes the following editorial in which C. A. Lindbergh's position is fully explained and those who have in any way been influenced by the rumors that he was not friendly to the local merchants will at once see that the report was merely of a juggling of facts:

"There have been inquiries as to whether or not C. A. Lindbergh, the republican candidate for congress, favored any one class as against any other, and especially his relations with merchants. Those who claim he is opposed to the local merchants are mistaken. No person who has considered carefully his position on the relations of the country merchants with trade will for a moment take any exception. What has surprised him in this campaign is that some of his friends have taken fright at campaign flurries. This is really his first political work but at no time has he been frightened that the intelligence of the people on the average will miss. He relies on that.

"Mr. Lindbergh did make a statement that the farming community is not getting the advantages that the importance of the industry entitles it to and no student will deny that fact, and he made the statement that the country merchants are working under great disadvantages and need an improved system and they, he thinks, agree with him on that. It is easy to select a sentence or even several sentences out of any article which if standing alone could be interpreted in one way, but if taken with the real context would mean an entirely different thing.

"It is such practice and also misquoting that some have misinterpreted. No article that he has written if carefully read would lead to any different conclusion than that he stands for the people as a whole. He knows of the absolute need of the farmers to the merchants and of the merchants to the farmers and of both to all of us.

"Mr. Lindbergh did state that a majority of retailers make a scant living and many fail and that ordinarily when the retailer tells the buyer that he cannot afford to sell cheaper he tells the truth. Often he sells cheaper than he can afford, notwithstanding that the price he pays the producers is much lower.

"He has shown how both the farmers and merchants and others could by co-operation improve their mutual advantages and all beginners and none losers. He has said our present system of transportation is wrong and that by reason of that fact the cities have grown large at the expense of the smaller towns, and that by a proper system of transportation, freight and express rates, this can be overcome so that our country towns will gain in their relative importance with the larger cities.

"He has said, 'It does not follow that because the consumer can buy for less money in the distant market than he pays in the home market, that it will profit to buy in the former, for the payment of the money in the local market may give the buyer an indirect advantage that will offset the lower cost of the goods. He further stated that 'other things being equal it is always advisable to buy from the local merchant.'

"The farmer can afford to pay the local merchant a little more than he would pay elsewhere, for the local merchant fills an important place in the locality of his operations. The whole question must be looked at and treated from a broad view point, and considered that producers and others will adjust themselves to a general fitness of things. And after making the statement he pointed out the way in which the farmers and local merchants have a mutual interest in building up their local conditions and the only way to do so is to secure a proper business understanding and a united forward action to secure equitable freight and express rates. When this done there is no danger of the merchants having further trouble. The farmer would be the loser if the local merchant is crushed, for the moment that the catalogue houses could get control they would combine, create a monopoly and then tax us all larger prices.

"His statements have always been, and his personal political preference is, to build up the country districts by prohibiting discrimination by the railways and by the mails in favor of the cities. He would let each person and all places pay for the services he or it receives in proportion to the amount of the service. By so doing he thinks our country districts will be blessed with successful business men and our farming districts with prosperous farmers, each to the mutual advantage of the other, and the catalogue houses will no longer thrive. Do not blame the merchants nor the farmers because both are getting the worst of the present conditions, but all should get together and secure the remedy that goes to the foundation. His idea is to secure for every man President Roosevelt's 'square deal.'

"When he advocated that a uniform rate should be made and enforced which would treat all people and all places without partiality his thought was for the people to remedy some of these difficulties and by so doing the smaller cities would rapidly develop into thriving centers to supply the wants that are natural to their location.

Mr. Lindbergh wishes to emphasize the idea expressed in the new rate law that the government shall supervise the railways and express companies and enforce reasonable charges which means in proportion to the services. While the law as passed cannot accomplish all that is desired, it is a start in the right direction and with such improvements as may from time to time be secured by legislation that favors all people in preference to special few the country will be able to work out a new system that will secure greater prosperity to the country merchants and the farmers.

"Mr. Lindbergh invites examination of his pamphlet recently issued. If voters will look that over carefully they will find his intentions are clearly stated showing that he desires to use every effort to build up the country districts in preference to the city."

Good Dress Goods

The making of proper Dress Goods is much more than putting together so much silk, wool or cotton. It requires a personality of insight and an artistic taste in choosing designs, colors and finish to weave a beautiful and appropriate fabric. A mere weaver of fabrics who has learned a trade, with the loom, and the shuttle running backward and forward along beaten tracks, produces something akin to dress goods, but not the kind of dress goods for the patrons of the L. J. Cale's Dept. Store whom we wish to serve. Our customers will be sure to see in our store the largest Dress Goods assortment in the city and will also see only the newest styles and the most carefully selected merchandise in Brainerd and what is best of all you will not pay as much for merchandise at Cale's store as you will pay for cheap merchandise at other stores.

Mrs. Foley was the widow of Michael Foley, and has for many years lived on North Tenth street. She has been practically alone for a long time and dependent on friends and neighbors, and as been losing her mind, so that death came as a blessing, rather than otherwise.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Illusion of Beatrice."

Maude Fealy, the youngest star on the American stage, is to be seen at the opera house, Friday, Oct. 19th, in Martha Morton's latest comedy, "The Illusion of Beatrice" supported by a selected New York company with a complete scenic production.

The talented young actress has won a unique position for herself in her profession and has a remarkable record. She has been on the stage ever since she was a child, her mother having been a noted player. When at an age when most young ladies are still in college, Maude Fealy occupied the enviable position of being leading woman for the world's greatest actor, the late Sir Henry Irving, sharing honors in London with that great tragedian. Since her return to this country, Maude Fealy has added to her many triumphs, her latest being the leading role of "The Illusion of Beatrice." In this charming comedy Martha Morton, the authoress has evolved a role for Miss Fealy that is exactly suited to her sweet and girlish personality. The character of a poor foundling being brought up under the impression that she is scion of a royal family, has been cleverly treated by the authoress, and Maude Fealy brings all her magnetic force winning charms to bear in presenting a character that will draw tears and laughter alternately. Miss Fealy's manager, John Cort, has spared no expense in presenting his young star before the public, both as to strength of the supporting company and as to a complete scenic production. The appearance of Maude Fealy in this city is one of the most important events of the season and a large and fashionable audience is looked for.

The New "Monte Cristo."

James O'Neill, America's foremost romantic actor, has announced that the forthcoming engagement at the Brainerd opera house will be his last in the famous old Dumas' play, "Monte Cristo," in which he has appeared almost five thousand times. The production is new and the most spectacular ever given the play, and the company is one of the largest and strongest, and includes among other the star's son, Jas. O'Neill, Jr.

Henry E. Jones, of Tampa, Fla., writes: "I can thank God for my present health due to Foley's Kidney Cure. I tried doctors and all kinds of kidney cures, but nothing done me much good until I took Foley's Kidney Cure. Four bottles cured me, and I have no more pain in my back or shoulders. I am 62 years old, and suffered long, but thanks to Foley's Kidney Cure I am well and can walk and enjoy myself. It is a pleasure to recommend it to those needing a kidney cure." H. P. ROAD TO BE BUILT TO THE STATE LINE

Stock Holders of Minnesota & International May Build to the Line.

THE M. & I. WOULD OPERATE Backus-Brooks Company to Build from Big Falls to International Falls

According to the statement of one of the leading officials of the Minnesota & International railroad company that road has no intention of extending to International Falls. Some of the stockholders, however, are strongly contemplating building the road next summer, according to this gentleman, in which event the M. & I. will probably have a traffic arrangement with the extension which will give good service through to the line. The Backus-Brooks Lumber company is said to be heavily interested in the M. & I. and are large holders of the lands to be traversed by the extension.

Will Move to St. Cloud.

The St. Cloud Times says: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Ley will move from Grafton, N. D., to this city to make their future home. Mr. Ley was formerly a resident here, but has been at Grafton a long time working in a dry goods store. A few months ago a Grafton merchant was here with the intention of starting in the dry goods business and it was thought by some that as Mr. Ley worked for him that his coming here bore some relation to a deal of that kind. Such is not the case, however. Mr. and Mrs. Ley have bought the Peter H. Ley farm near St. Joseph. It is said that there is a fine quality of clay on this land and that Mr. Ley will start a brickyard there next spring.

Foley's Kidney Cure will cure any case of kidney trouble that is not beyond medical aid. H. P. Dunn & Co. mfwf

COLD WEATHER IS BENEFICIAL. Greatly Stimulates Many Lines of Retail Trade.

New York, Oct. 13.—Bradstreet's review of trade says cold weather has greatly stimulated many lines of retail trade hitherto inclined to lag, notable in this respect being heavyweight clothing, shoes and rubber footwear, and induced some re-order business with jobbers who are still busy on regular trade. The coal trade also shows improvement and some advance in prices, but here car congestion, especially at the West, is a bar to fullest activity. That the early advent of snow and frost has done some damage is evident in reports of injury to fruit orchards, vines and tobacco plants at the West and rumors of frost damage to cotton at the South. The railways seem to keep finding increased difficulty in handling the traffic offering and fears of future great congestion are expressed. The price situation as a whole is one of great strength, October prices being at a record level. For the week the features in speculative circles have been the slowness of dealings in grain at small net changes in price and the sharp fluctuations of cotton. The strength of the metal markets deserves mention. Copper has reached the highest price in sixteen years and iron and steel show increased strength. Jobbing trade, though of a between season character, is very large for the season.

BRAINERD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dispatch Files of Twenty Years Ago this Week.

"Mr. H. Patterson, of Deerwood, announces himself as a candidate for commissioner from the Fifth district. We are informed that the gentleman is a representative man from his town and that he has held the most trusted town offices since his settlement there in 1881."

"Hen. Knute Nelson came near being drowned on Monday. He was found floating in Lake Alexandria by a man who heard his cries just in time to save him. His boat tipped over with him and as there was a high wind he could not get to the boat again before it floated. He is recovering and will be around in a few days."

"W. A. Fleming has finally consented to be a candidate for re-election as superintendent of schools. No better man could be elected. What ought to be done, though, is for the legislature to put the salary of that office at such a figure that the officer can attend to the duties in a respectable manner."

"S. F. Alderman will be the next clerk of the courts. The people desire to retain him as they are aware of his ability as a public officer."

"R. K. Whiteley and S. H. Relf are both announced as candidates for county surveyor, and between these two men we must admit that R. K. Whiteley is our choice and we think the choice of a majority of the voters. Relf has had the office long enough to make enemies that will defeat him."

"Charlie Kinkadee will not laugh out in court again this term. The judge fined him a dollar Wednesday for giving way to his mirth."

"Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Goodman and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phalen left for New York City via Washington last night. They will be absent about a month."

"Burglars were in E. O. Webb's store Wednesday night, but were scared out before they obtained anything."

"P. M. Lagerquist has returned from Dakota, where he has been for some time looking after the harvesting of crops on his farm."

"A petition is being circulated among the merchants to get them to close the places at 8 o'clock except on Saturday nights and paydays, and nearly all have signed it. The idea is to give the clerks a chance to go and see their girls during the winter evenings, or to blow their money in on pedro in case they have no girls to see. But speaking seriously the move is one that ought to be encouraged and we hope to see every merchant sign it."

"The Northwestern Indian commission and party arrived here Wednesday from Mille Lacs. The band of Chippewa Indians there declined to accept the offer of homes on the White Earth reservation and remove there. They are in a wretched condition but positively refuse to be removed from their present locality."

District Court Matters

The grand jury returned indictments against W. H. Sanford for murder in the first degree for killing Hugh Dolan and against Myron Davenport for manslaughter in the second degree for killing Chas. Polly. Mrs. Davenport was released on order of the court.

An indictment was also found against Gus Beaulieu, U. S. deputy marshal, for false arrest and imprisonment of A. O. Narrows on a warrant issued for one Theviot. Beaulieu gave bonds in the sum of $1000 and the term was continued until next term.

C. Cross got a verdict against Malcolm McLaren for $1 for libel because McLaren published an article in which he called Cross an Indian.

QUIET REIGNS IN CUBA

GOVERNOR MAGOON LOOKS FORWARD TO A PEACEFUL ADMINISTRATION.

ANTICIPATES NO SENSATIONS

BELIEVES THAT GOVERNMENTAL MATTERS WILL BE OF COMMONPLACE ORDER.

Havana, Oct. 15.—Charles E. Magoon's first day as governor of Cuba passed busily but quietly. The palace was singularly still compared with the eventful days of the past regime.

Governor Magoon said that he was looking forward with confidence to a peaceful administration. He expressed the warmest appreciation of the work accomplished by Messrs. Taft and Bacon, both in the pacification of the island and laying the foundation for a smooth and successful system of provisional government. The governor sees no reason to anticipate further sudden changes in the situation or any especially sensational incident; he is rather of the opinion that now governmental matters will be of the commonplace order compared to the exciting and rapid succession of developments of the past two months.

Governor Magoon has announced his decision to postpone the appointment of cabinet officers indefinitely. Asked whether he was likely to permit partisan political expediency to influence cabinet or other appointments, the governor replied that such considerations might rule to some extent, since it certainly would be impolitic to appoint to high offices men to whom a considerable portion of the people was opposed. Efficiency, and suitability, however, would be the main considerations.

Cuba Must Pay the Bill.

There will be kept a strict accounting of the expenses incurred by the American army of occupation as are chargeable to Cuba. These will include only such expenses as would not have been incurred but for the coming of the troops to the island.

The last demonstration of welcome to returning ex-rebels took place here upon the arrival of General Julian Betancourt, who was formerly Pino Guerra's chief of staff.

A crowd of 2,000 persons met him at the Villa Nueva station and greeted him with roars of delight. Padre Miret, a revolutionary priest, who accompanied the general, also was enthusiastically welcomed. The crowd was composed almost entirely of negroes.

The City of Washington, with the headquarters and first battalion of the Eleventh Infantry on board, and the Admiral Schley, with Company 1 of the signal corps and the Seventeenth and Eighteenth batteries of mountain artillery, have arrived. The troops have gone to Camp Columbia. The headquarters and third battalion of the Fifth Infantry have been transferred from Camp Columbia to Cardenas.

General Bell intends to distribute a battalion of engineers throughout the island for the purpose of verifying, correcting and completing the large army map of Cuba begun during the former intervention, but not completed except for the provinces of Havana and Matanzas.

The twenty-five marines ordered to the Isle of Pines by Secretary of War Taft proceeded thither from Batabano on board a coasting vessel.

INCENDIARY FIRE IN NEW YORK.

Results in Death of Two Persons and Injury of Many Others.

New York, Oct. 15.—Two persons killed, one seriously injured and many others slightly hurt, was the result of a small fire, supposed to be of incendiary origin, in a five-story negro tenement here. The dead are:

Mrs. Etta de Lyons, suffocated by smoke; Mrs. Ruth Tyson, who jumped from the top floor to the sidewalk.

Mrs. Lottie Small is in a serious condition.

When the firemen arrived the tenants were dropping from fire escapes and windows in reckless flight.

International Balloon Race.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—In a breeze blowing fifteen miles an hour seventeen balloons started Sunday in the international race for the cup offered by Emperor William. They were sent up from within an enclosure at Tegel, six miles northwest of Berlin.

Italian Murdered.

Detroit, Oct. 15.—William Danglo, an Italian, aged twenty, was found murdered in a stone yard. He had been shot through the heart. The police have no clue to the murderer's identity and have been unable to find any motive for the crime.

Prominent Negro Killed.

Salt Lake City, Oct. 15.—Horace H. Voss, who was doorman of the Fifth Utah legislature and the most prominent colored man in the state, was shot and killed by A. T. Day, another negro, whom Voss had reproved for assaulting a smaller man.

SUCCESSOR TO POPE PIUS.

indications Point to the Election of a Statesman.

Rome, Oct. 15.—In spite of the fact that the pope is enjoying perfect health, the matter of the possible result of the next conclave, whenever it does occur, is being discussed even among the cardinals themselves.

The feeling among the cardinals has changed greatly since August, 1903, and there exists a tendency quite opposite to that which triumphed three years ago. In view of the vatican's experiences with France the cry this time will be not for a merely religious pope, but a political pope; not for a saint, but for a statesman.

Even the strongest opponents of three years ago of Cardinal Rampolla now favor his election. Rampolla failed in 1903 chiefly because he was vetoed by Cardinal Poyzzy in the name of Austria, speaking for the entire triple alliance.

There are rumors of an experiment with a foreign pope, in spite of the disfavor of the Italians. For the past four centuries all the popes have been Italians.

WIPES OUT ENTIRE FAMILY.

Tennessee Farmer Kills Wife, Six Children and Himself.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 15.—Chalburn Hintooth, aged fifty, a farmer near Newport, Tenn., murdered his wife and four children, fatally injured two other children and then committed suicide by cutting his throat. It is believed Hintooth became suddenly insane. An axe was the weapon used. The wife and children were brained.

Parkhurst Praises Stanford White.

New York, Oct. 15.—The new Madison Square Presbyterian church, of which Rev. Dr. Charles A. Parkhurst is the pastor, was dedicated Sunday with impressive ceremonies. In his dedicatory sermon Dr. Parkhurst paid high tribute to the genius of Stanford White, the architect, whose final achievement was the designing of this church.

Died in an Open Boat.

Detroit, Oct. 15.—The bodies of Steven A. Stuart and Mrs. Harry Caldwell, his sister-in-law, who had been missing since they left Ecorse, ten miles down the river, on a fishing trip last Wednesday, were found in their boat in a large marsh near Fighting Island. It is supposed they died from exhaustion and cold.

Russian Governmental Party.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—The League of Octoberists has been adopted by Premier Stolypin as the governmental party and to it all the strength of the administration will be turned in the coming elections.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Hazing is again being indulged in by the students of the naval academy at Annapolis.

Joaquin D. Cassasus, Mexican ambassador to the United States, has formally tendered his resignation to President Diaz.

Secretaries Root and Shaw will address the Transmississippi congress, which will meet in Kansas City Nov. 20 to 23, inclusive.

John D. Rockefeller has made a conditional gift of $25,000 for a building for the negro branch of the Washington (D. C.) Young Men's Christian association.

Herbert W. Chynoweth, a prominent attorney and identified with nearly all of the history-making litigation in Wisconsin, is dead at Madison, Wis., aged fifty-six years.

The famous Viennese singing society, the Wiener Maennesgesang Verein, will probably visit Indianapolis to participate in the North American Saengerbund in June, 1907.
